A. READ THE FOLLOWING STORY AND THEN ANSWER THE QUESTIONS

Alfie liked the red fire-engine, the fireman's uniform and the job too.

"I want to be a fireman," he said to his father.

"Are you 1.5 metres and above in height? Can you put out fires? Can you drive a fire-engine?" his father asked.

Alfie shook his head to all the questions. "I can grow taller and I can learn to fight fires," Alfie said.

"Good. We'll wait," his father said.

"But what do I do in the meantime?" Alfie asked.

His father had an idea. The next day Alfie had a red plastic helmet, a pair of red plastic boots and a red jacket. He was happy his mother let him use the hose.
