Conservation Effort to Preserve Life Below Water

A new initiative designed to support marine ecotourism and the Sustainable Development Goal 14 (SDG 14) was launched to mark a new era in marine conservation. The South Pacific Tourism Organisation (SPTO) in partnership with Beqa Adventure Divers (BAD) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), with support from the Australian Government proudly
5 launched the My Fiji Shark Initiative in Suva on 18th of October, 2018.

With coastal pollution, overfishing and population growth, the oceans and the marine ecosystem are witnessing profound damage making the SDG 14 'Life Below Water' crucial for Fiji. There is optimism amongst scientists that new approaches to sustainable management and marine conservation can be found if traditional knowledge is complemented by science and technology.

- 10 Hence, the My Fiji Shark Initiative is a new innovative model to support the partners' efforts to realise this and raise the profile of marine conservation in the region.

According to the Chief Executive Officer of SPTO, this initiative is a tool to mobilise resources through tourism to implement the SDG 14 and support the 'Blue Pacific' identity as a driver for sustainable development in the region. This partnership is a demonstration of public-private 15 sector engagement in the conservation of the marine resources.

Beqa Adventure Divers is a credible business with research work to support the Shark Reef Marine Reserve. The initiative is working closely with the Shark Reef Marine Reserve managed by Beqa Adventure Divers, a local shark research, conservation and ecotourism operator, to raise the profile of marine conservation in the region through a shark adoption program.

- 20 UNDP Pacific Office in Fiji Country Director and Head of Pacific Regional Policy and Programme revealed that businesses globally have a big role to play in achieving the SDGs. It is also known that it will not succeed without private sector engagement and contributions. This initiative is all the more important as it targets SDG financing from the private sector.

- 25 My Fiji Shark Initiative supports work towards achieving the SDG 14 on Life Below Water, which is specifically linked to marine ecotourism and involving 'Adopt a Shark' campaign. It is that it is the first SDG private sector financing model and marketing campaign are about oceans and marine species.

- 30 The initiative would mobilise resources by allowing sponsors to adopt individual sharks in their symbolic natural habitat. Several tiers of 'adoption' are being offered, with current proposals ranging from US$50 - US$10,000 for adoption by the general public, with varying packages of benefits.

35 Beqa Adventure Diver's Head of Conservation and My Fiji Shark Program Coordinator is proud of this initiative and deeply grateful to their partners and sponsors as the funds raised will allow them to play their part in assisting the government to pursue the ambitious marine conservation and fisheries management goals it had announced at the 2017 Ocean Conference.

Furthermore, this project will also help to change the public's perception of these misunderstood animals that sharks are beautiful, intelligent, and dynamic creatures with individual personalities and character traits just like humans.

40 Sharks are also globally threatened by overfishing and habitat loss and deserve all the help they can get. However, Fiji's shark populations are faring comparatively well to global populations and also are the main attraction of a thriving niche product that has been shown to contribute more than FJ$80 million in sustainable income every year to Fiji's ecotourism industry.

Beqa Adventure Divers and My Fiji Shark Initiative are proud pioneers of Fiji's shark ecotourism industry and their message to everyone in Fiji is:

45 "Please help us nurture and preserve this unique and precious resource which has been part of Fijian culture since time immemorial and Adopt Your Shark Now."

Mr. Mark Van Dyke, Professor
Marist College
3399 North Road
Poughkeepsie, NY 12601

Dear Mr. Van Dyke:

I am writing to propose an idea for an interactive exercise, which would be performed in a future Public Relations class. The exercise would incorporate an activity where an “on the spot” choice must be composed quickly in a response to a “crisis” situation that might come across in a public relations department or organization. An exercise such as this can help improve critical thinking skills, as well as making decisions against a realistic deadline in professional settings.

The field of public relations fascinates me because it encompasses thorough, 2-way communication that allows for the regulation of mutual benefits between organizations and its publics. Public relations creates a structure that promotes honesty as well as transparency in a professional field, which appeals to my ideals as a professional. My learning style is more hands-on and interactive, which allows for easier adaptability when engaging the work force. The exercise suggestion stated above will help your class engage in a realistic situation of critical thinking, as promote group collaboration. Exercises such as these can help students adjust to think more on their feet as opposed to meeting an extended deadline.

Following acceptance of my proposal, I would like to expect to see the exercise performed in a timely fashion during the next few weeks of your scheduled course classes, preferably Thursday, the 27th. Your response would be most appreciated if received by Monday of next week. I hope to hear from you soon. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me through the contact information provided above.

Sincerely yours,

Zachary. A. Varga
