

LESSON NOTES

School: Ba Sangam College
Subject: Agricultural Science

Year/ Name: 10 _____
 week 8

Strand	AS 10.4 Livestock Production
Sub Strand	AS 10.4.1 Poultry
Content Learning Outcome	Recognize and discuss the importance of poultry.

LESSON 3 TYPES OF POULTRY OF ECONOMIC IMPORTANCE IN FIJI

Lesson Outcome: At the end of this lesson the student will identify the types of poultry that are of economic importance in Fiji.

Definitions

Ornaments - used for beautification purposes e.g. gearings

Litter - materials such as coffee husk, wood shavings or peanut shells used to cover the floor of the chicken house.

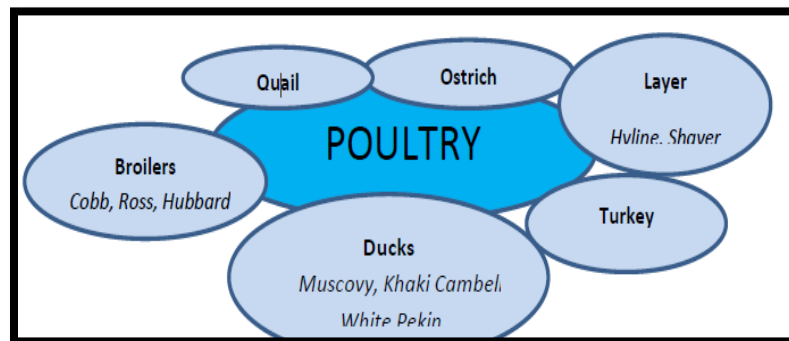

Manure - animal waste such as the chicken dung, pigs or cattle put into a garden soil to enrich the soil.

Ostrich - Large bird with long neck, strong legs bearing two toes each.

Quail - a species of small upland game birds.

Notes

The poultry industry is well developed in Fiji and the country is able to meet the demands of the consumers and able to export to nearby Pacific Islands.

Activity Worksheet 8

1. From the illustration above pick any of the poultry resource and say how it is important to the economy of Fiji.

(4 marks)

2. State a reason why Fiji is not able to rear quail, turkey and ostrich.

(3 marks)

3. Unravel the following words that are associated with poultry.

	Letters	Word
1.	itohsrc
2.	etahsefr
3.	sckud
4.	eanmur
5.	tlrit

(5 marks)

4. State the importance of raising poultry

(3 marks)

5. State the difference between layers and broilers

(2 marks)

6. Name three products used for ornamental purpose in poultry

(3 marks)